Night Skies Presentation

AT CAMP GLENORCHY

SUNDAY
6TH FEB

Join us at 8pm for a unique stargazing presentation with Paul Bishop from Naseby Night Sky Tours, who will take you on a journey of discovery of our solar system. Afterwards, if weather conditions allow, Paul will take us outside for a closer look of our southern skies through his telescope.

Fee: $10 donation to the Glenorchy Community Trust.

Fresher Produce—Curated by Clive Smith & Lucie Machovcova

Clive and Lucie have been upgrading and expanding our selection of fresh produce, including getting avocados and stone fruit from a new supplier and adding fresher veggies from Fabiola in our own new Kitchen Garden. The walls have gone up on our raised beds and now the walls are going up on the winterized green house.

Sue Scott and Dani Hood: Mrs Woolly's New Co-Leadership Team!

After five years with Mrs Woolly's, Agi Radtke has made a "next chapter" move to Christchurch. Without much tourism business with our borders remaining closed, we have decided not to replace Agi with another store manager and are training and promoting Sue and Dani to become Mrs Woolly's Store Shopkeepers.

New Arrivals at Mrs Woolly's Gallery

We're excited to feature the artwork of local and regional artists here in our new Gallery. Pictured here are:

Textile artwork by Amanada Hasselman

Pounamu mere created from recycled copper roofing by Dan Kelly
