Well we are half way through May already and the students are well under-way with learning the songs for the musical to be performed at the end of next term.

Glenorchy Students have been involved in many things so far this term, planting on the boardwalk, mad hair day, friends for life, Young Leaders Day and ice skating, with still more to come.

Thank you to all who supported our Mad Hair Day with their gold coin donation. Funds raised will be donated to the Westpac Chopper Appeal.

Our creative Juniors were busy last week creating these lovely packs of wild flower seeds to give to their Mums on Mothers Day.

Thank you Dean for helping the children plant the new natives on the boardwalk yesterday. Our year 4 to 8's braved the rain and got on with the job without hesitation!

Parents please also remember to spend some time with your children and do the Friends for life or fun friends family discussions as it makes for great reinforcements for the programme and the classroom sessions much more meaningful.

The Spike Legged Whopadooble
Flies through the sky
But when he tries to tell the truth
He can only lie.

An Ella Rhyme By Tru

Ella can water a rose
With her long thick nose
She collects wood because
The farmer says she should
She does the lawns
As the farmer yawns.
She feeds the pig
As the piggy jig.

Two wonderful poems from Tru and Alise in Year 4

A Blast from the Past. Gio Angelo shares his wonderful memories of his times as Principal at Glenorchy School.

Dear Pupils of Glenorchy School,

You're probably bored with my letters of old times but when I saw the pictures in your newsletter of you skating, it brought back another memory I want to share.

In the third term (we only had three terms then) in 1968, in my first year at the school I had put on the timetable for Wednesday afternoons "Winter Sports Programme". When the winter term opened I still hadn't organized anything. There were only 5 boys – not enough to make a football team and too few middle and senior girls to make a netball team.

What was I going to do? My only hope was to encourage the boys to play netball and that wasn't going to be easy. And I had to look after the juniors at the same time.

I needn't have worried. As I was getting ready to take the class outside about half a dozen cars pulled up at the gate. In came Mrs Eileen Koch (bless her, she was always looking after the school and the teachers) who said to the children "Are you all ready?"

"Yeeees", they all replied.

"Hop in the cars, then", she started to say but the children were already picking up their bags and racing for the cars.

"Hold on! What's happening?" I cried.

"Winter sports! Come on you'll see", Mrs Koch explained.

We travelled in convoy up the road towards Paradise and I was feeling a bit concerned. But nearly all the children's parents were in the group so I started to relax a little. We stopped beside a pond in the bush beside Lake Diamond (near a bluff we called 'The Widow's Tears'). In a flash everyone was out putting on skates and they had even brought a pair for me, along with a scarf, hat and jacket.

I had never skated before but, with the help of a chair or broom to hold me up and children around to haul me up when I had gone down. I was gaining more confidence. By the end of the afternoon, when the cold was starting to seep through the scarf and jacket, I could skate on my own for about five or six metres before falling over.

What an afternoon! I had started out worrying what I was going to teach the children but they ended up teaching me. I was already looking forward to the next Wednesday.

Happy Skating,
Gio Angelo.

Are you keen for your daughter to be involved in Guiding, but don't live near a group?

GirlGuiding New Zealand's focus is to provide the most opportunities possible for girls, even when they are isolated by distance or other factors.

If for some reason you are unable to attend a local unit, you can still be involved in Guiding by joining the Aotearoa Region.

The Aotearoa Region provides the GirlGuiding programme and activities in a different way, using a variety of methods i.e. post, email, internet, texting and other social media.

And should circumstances change, it's easy to transfer from the Aotearoa Region unit to a regular unit.
