

Flax Weaving Refresher Workshop

Making flax baskets, large or small, is not only satisfying and fun, but can be a first step to reducing plastics in our lives, as they are tasteful and appealing alternative containers with a variety of uses.

Location: Glenorchy Hall

Date: Sunday 11 January

Time: 1pm - 4pm

What to bring:

- A pair of scissors or a craft knife (Stanley knife or equivalent)
- An old kitchen knife
- Some (4-8) hinge-type clothes pegs
- Freshly-harvested flax if possible

Details: Open to all. Some of the attendees at Fiona Wallen's workshop here last October will be available to pass on and consolidate what they learned.

Cost: Free.
