

Community Resilience Discussion

Where Supper Room

When 5pm, Sunday 28 June

LP

What to bring Food to share

Sustainable Glenorchy has decided to host a further discussion followed by a shared meal on Sunday 28 June at 5pm in the Supper Room at the Hall.

The purpose of this get-together is two-fold:

- 1) To give the opportunity for follow-up by the group looking at the question of a food co-op in Glenorchy, and for general follow-up of topics discussed on 26 April.
- 2) To decide where to go with this initiative. Sustainable Glenorchy exists to support any individual or group that wants to make our community more self-supporting and environmentally sustainable, and from our previous resilience discussions it seems clear that there is enthusiasm and knowledge as well as a willingness to learn more about long term food, water, shelter, communications and connectivity/power supply that would help us weather future local, regional or global events.

Please note, this is not about emergency management, which is very ably covered by Civil Defence. This is about thinking of ways we can prepare ourselves and others in the long term, as, being a small community, we may not quite be top of the QLDC list should the entire region be affected by an untoward event.

We'd love you to come so that together we can work out how best to go forward.
