Week 6

Years 7 and 8
Tracks to Success
Due

Here we are in week 4 already. Great to see the students all working so hard at Glenorchy School this term.

There have been mentos and coke volcanic eruptions, earthquake art, cricket and maths, maths and more maths.

The junior room has been flat out, skipping, making music, reading up a storm and designing scary taniwhas.

This is just one of the great Taniwha stories.

Allie McHugo

The Taniwha

The head of the taniwha was as large as a tractor wheel.

The taniwha's eyes were as big as a lightening strike.

His mouth opened like the jaws of the giant Matau.

The taniwha's tail was as big as a rattle snake.

His enormous feet crushed everything in their path.

The taniwha's neck was as big as a chair.

By George.

The seniors have written fabulous myths about Ruamoko 'God of Earthquakes' come in and check them out.
